

Hi Nikita

1. If you have a property that has cycads on them , must you still register it or obtain a permit for having them in your possession?
According to new law that came out in 2008 everyone in S.A. must apply for possession permits.
2. If you are selling the property with Cycads on them do you still need a permit?
You always need an permit, the other person buying the property will then have to apply for an possession permit.
3. What's the price and process of obtaining a permit?
You have to contact your nearest Nature Conservation office and find out from them what the process is Unfortunately every province has their own Ordinances and it differs from province to province.
4. To whom may you sell the Cycads?
To anybody.
